BALDWIN PIANO USED

The Piano With an Individuality

The Weber

Art is the expression of individuality. Just as the music of Beethoven, of Chopin and of Schumann bears the unmistakable characteristics of the composer, so the Weber Piano possesses a distinct individuality of its own.

Once heard by the cultivated ear "Weber-Tone" is never forgotten. There is about it a richness, a beauty, a depth of coloring that at once distinguishes it from all other pianos.

For over fifty years it has been recognized that the tone of the Weber more nearly approached the singing quality of the human voice than that of any other piano.

POND'S EXTRACT COMPANY'S VANISHING CREAM

Called "Vanishing" because, when lightly applied with the tips of the fingers, it is immediately absorbed—vanishes—hence can be used most conveniently at any time without injury to gloves or clothes. It contains no oil or grease.

Vanishing Cream is scented with the delicate fragrance of Jacque Roses and is delightfully efficacious for Chaps and Wind-burn and gives prompt relief for all the other annoying skin discomforts.

A trial will convince you of the exquisite fragrance, daintiness, and purity of VANISHING CREAM.

An opinion from GIACOMO PUCCINI regarding KNABE PIANOS

Signor Puccini is the composer of "La Boheme," "Tosca," "Mme. Butterfly," etc. His visit to the United States this winter for the production of his latest opera,

"The Girl of the Golden West"

will mark an epoch in the musical affairs of this country

Messrs. Wm. Knabe & Co.,

I have had the pleasure to prove your piano and I have become very enthusiastic.

The sweetness of its tone transports the soul and makes one dream of strange worlds where dwell the spirits elect.

It is incomparable in strength and roundness, and I attest to the grand impression received.

With great respect, I salute you.

GIACOMO PUCCINI.
